A GUIDANCE PROGRAM

by Ernest Fleischer, Madeline Karl and Marguerite Eversden

Accept your child as he is; be realistic about his handicap.

Build up his good points. Look for them and emphasize them.

Children need understanding, patience and supervision whether they are physically handicapped or not.

Doctors, counselors, teachers, and therapists are friends. Cooperate with them. Apply and ask for help with your problems.

Environment is important to any child. Habits and adjustments formed early carry lifetime influence.

Food, shelter, clothing and love are necessities; and the greatest of these is love.

Good discipline is important in your relationship with your children; make sure it is justifiable and consistent.

Help your child when he needs it; but don't deprive him of chances to make decisions for himself.

Independence is gained by encouraging your child toward new experiences.

PRIMER FOR PARENTS

Joint efforts of mother and father are needed. Work together toward the same goals.

Know as much as possible about your child's handicap. Read. Talk with other parents. Accept information from experienced advisers and ask questions.

Learning can be a rich experience for you and your child.

Mother and father groups exist. Join one because sharing can benefit you and others.

Never waste time and energy bemoaning the handicap. Accept the positive approach by looking toward circumventing limiting conditions.

Optimism can be gained. Work at it. Share it. It's contagious.

Physical handicaps are only one part of the picture. Fundamentally, your child learns and grows like other children.

Qualities of dependence can prevent your child from maturing. Encourage all his efforts at independence.

Remember that your child mirrors your attitude, your personality, and reactions.

Sympathy leads only to a blind alley. Don't indulge yourself.

Training can go on at home as well as in schools, clinics, and hospitals. Help is all around you. Search for it and put it to use every hour of the day.

Understanding comes with time and patience.

Vocational guidance can be secured from counselors; start thinking about this early.

Work is fun turned inside out. Xtra effort is required with a handicapped child but don't neglect the rest of the family.

Your experience as a parent can be made richer if you avoid discouragement.

Zeal is needed in all living. Put it in your attitudes toward your child and yourself.

THE CHAMPAGNE MUSIC OF

February 22, 1965

Dear Miss Beckham:

Thank you for your letter. We were happy to learn that your pantomime of our program went so well and we enjoyed hearing about the Denture Creme commercial. I bet it was a lot of fun.

You, of course, have our permission to again pantomime one of our shows and I hope that everyone will get just as much enjoyment out of doing it.

Under separate cover I am sending a couple of our latest albums which I hope the children will like.

My best wishes.

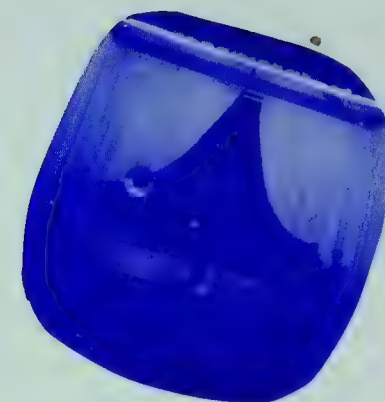

Sincerely,
Lawrence Welk

And the Story -
And there was a need: children

And there was a bill passed:

The Mississippi State Legislature at its 1952 Session passed House Bill No. 51, an act to provide for the education of exceptional children. Section 2, Definition, House Bill 51, as amended by House Bill 224, 1956 Regular Session, defines the exceptional child as "any child of educable and trainable mind under twenty-one years of age for whose particular educational needs institutional care and training are not available in this state, or who cannot pursue regular classwork due to reason or reasons of defective hearing, vision, speech, mental retardation or physical conditions, as determined by competent medical authorities and psychologists, shall be considered an exceptional child for the purpose of this act . . ."

And there was a dedicated group -

Provisions for local financial support.

And there was a Superintendent who said, "Yes".

Mr. Mack M. Morgan

And there was a grateful mother whose child had benefitted from Special Education And she qualified.

Availability of a teacher certified to teach exceptional children or one who will become certified before September 1 of the year the class is to begin.

And she was Maggie Beckhom R.N.

And there was Mr. W.R. Burris

And we had the — — services of the State Supervisor of Special Education ready at all times to give every assistance possible in helping the local community and school

And the U.C.P. provided the local monies needed to help with operating and maintenance, and has continued each year.

And on October 4, 1954, the first special school opened its doors.

And ten lucky children entered school, not so lucky because their problems slowed their progress. First party!

And there were heartbreaks when other children were taken back home because the services offered would not benefit them at this time;

And the wonderful

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

JACKSON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

came to the rescue of these children;

And the Jackson County Day Care idea became a reality, rendering services to the handicapped pre-school children and those needing custodial supervision to help them become more lovable, livable and less community problem;

And many big and small people helped;

Mrs. Henry Gautier, Charter Member,
U.C.P. of Jackson County
Mr. A. C. Bilbo, Suph. of Jackson County Schools
Mr. E. H. Bant, Shriners

Larry Davis, student

Mr. J. H. Meston,
U.C.P. President
Mayor Ed. Wiggins

Donald
Ray Roberts,
student

And all the businesses and industries in the county joined together in successful drives to continue these services for children who have special needs.

And every civic organization, also, helped by "adopting" these centers, and supported them financially and continuing interest.

And our Postmen joined in the famous "Postmen Walks" over the nation:

"Keep your porch-lights bright, We walk tonight."

And then along came the United Fund with its many magic hands;

And the U.C.F. became one of those magic hands;

And the U.C.F. annually supports continuing education in the fields of handicapped by grants to those teachers and workers in both centers;

"Mr. United Fund"
John A. Grant, Jr.

And contributed toward purchasing of shop and home-making equipment to help broaden the services other than the usual curriculum;

And
under the leadership of our Representatives Karl Wiesenburg and Merle Palmer --

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF JACKSON COUNTY, IN ITS DISCRETION, TO LEVY NOT EXCEEDING ONE-HALF (1/2) MILL PER ANNUM COUNTY-WIDE FOR SUPPORT AND MAINTENANCE OF THE JACKSON COUNTY SCHOOL FOR EXCEPTIONAL AND MENTALLY RETARDED CHILDREN AND FOR THE JACKSON COUNTY DAY CARE CENTER.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI:

SECTION 1. That the Board of Supervisors of Jackson County, Mississippi be, and the same is, hereby authorized and empowered in its discretion, to levy not exceeding one-half (1/2) mill per annum and all the taxable property in Jackson County for the purpose of providing funds to aid in the construction, reconstruction, repair, support and maintenance of the Jackson County School for Exceptional and Mentally Retarded Children and the Jackson County Day Care Center.

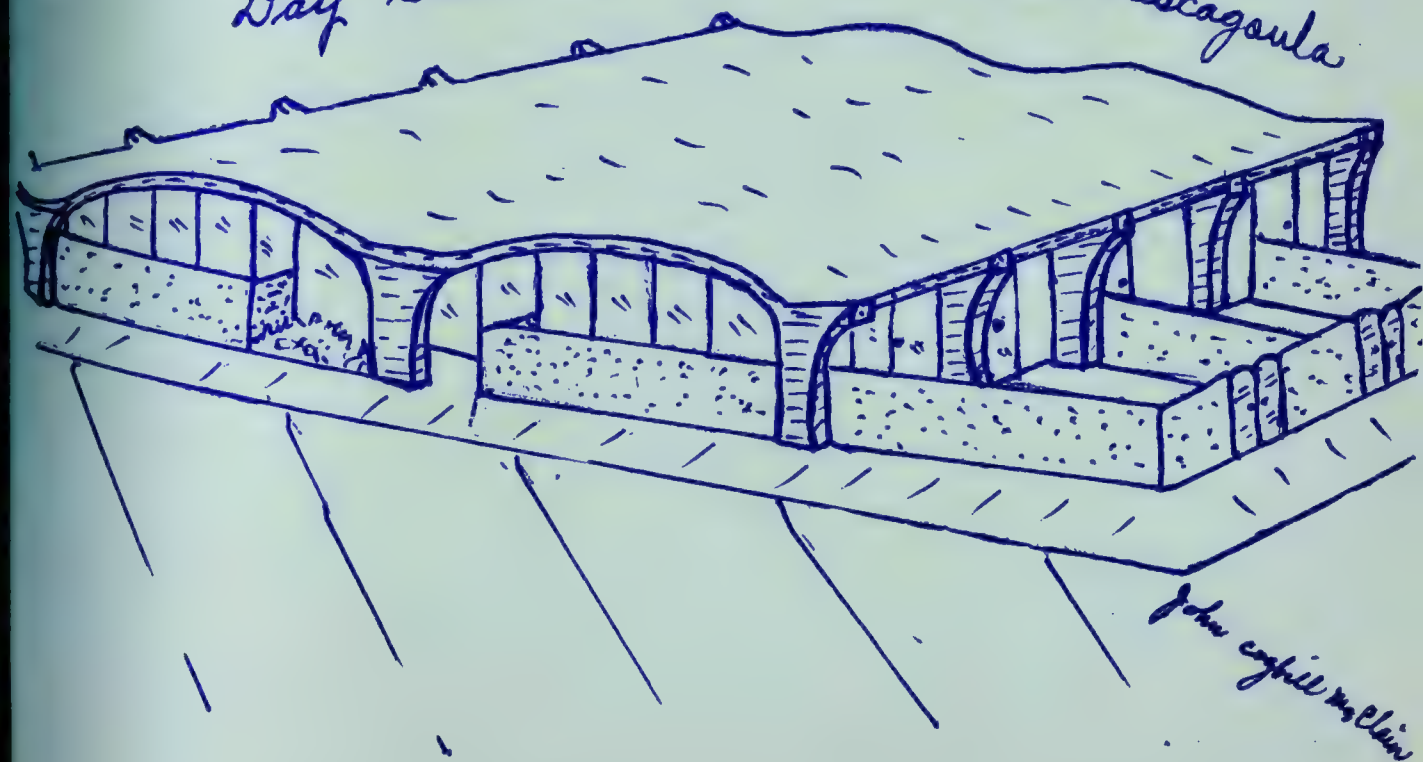

SECTION 2. That this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

And History Repeated

1. "Woman of the year" honor was extended to Maggie Beckham for her work with the Exceptional School in 1958: Tom Dawson, Merle Palmer, Mrs. Beckham and Mrs. Lill Terry, Elks Auxiliary President
2. "Outstanding Citizen" award was extended to Mrs. Beckham for her continued work in the Exceptional School by the B.P. & W in 1964
3. Mrs. Beckham's students proclaim her "Woman of the Year, Every School Day," and rejoice in the honor for all the students, parents, teachers and county.

And
further cognizant of the value of experience, the U. C. P. supports on-the-job-training, school related;

And
provides summer work for the older students in renovating and re-decorating the present school building on 12th

And
there-by has provided the first checks many of the students had ever received.
The stipends are based upon the interest, stability and quality each child demonstrates;

And the school grew and grew
And many returned to regular classes;

And the enrollment and staff increased 300%
under Jackson
County's Superintendent,
Newton Perry Gautier

And a much needed new building will become a reality in the very near future;

And we have our first graduating class of ten, 1965
And they have appeared on TV in Jackson and Biloxi to tell the story of a slow learner;

Jackson County and its Board of Directors;

And
the story does not stop here because we will continue under the able guidance of our new
